

Contents.

ix

	PAGES
—Don John's Death—Parma's Advent—The Union of Utrecht—Its Conditions—Philip's Ban — William's Apology — Appeals to the States-General—The Act of Abjuration—Philip Declared Deposed—Exemplification of Languet's Theory—A Dual State—The Dutch Republic no Democracy—William's Share in the Struggle—Excesses on both Sides—Leader and People—Final Vindication of the Republic —Sources of Chapter XI. . . . .	257-292

CHAPTER XII.

REFORMATION AND REVOLT IN ENGLAND.

The English Humanists—Colet's Activity as Reformer—Attitude of the Nation to the Church—Early English Protestants—Henry VIII. and the Protestant Reformation—Henry VIII. as Reformer—Prospective Effects of Henry's Reforms — A Steadfast Heretic — Henry's Religious Position—Revolt and its Causes—The Risings in Lincoln and York—Failure and Punishment—People and Parliament : A Contrast—The Protector Somerset and Protestantism — Protestant Denunciations of Social Abuses — Grievances of the People—"The Causes of Sedition"—Somerset Attempts a Remedy —Insurrection in the West—The Rising in Norfolk—Character of the Norfolk Rising—The Struggle and its Failure—Cranmer and the Reformation — Progress of the Reformation — The Calvinist Influence — Protestantism Still a Forced Growth — Brutality of Marian Persecution—Martyrdom of Latimer and Ridley—A Tribute to Fanaticism—Persecution Defeats Itself—A Scathing Catholic Condemnation—Sources of Chapter XII. . . .	293-325
---	---------

CHAPTER XIII.

THE EARLY PURITANS.

The Elizabethan Reformation — Allegiance to Queen or Pope ?— Romanism Equivalent to Sedition—Attitude of the Puritans—Puritan Objections—Contention and Opposition—"The First Admonition" —Whitgift and Cartwright—Hooker's "Ecclesiastical Polity"—Hooker's Reasonableness—Prophesying and Preaching—A Plea in their Favour—Grindal Resists the Queen—His Spirited Letter against Coercion—Puritan Plans and Tactics—Brownists and other Sectaries—Some of their Enlightened Views—Persecuting Spirit of Nonconformists—The High Commission—Lord Burghley's Protest —Harshness of the Persecution—Cartwright's Sufferings—Other
--	--

Examples—Puritan Remonstrances—The Commons and the Puritans —Th<JfCommons Petition for Reform —Puritan Pamphleteers—Martin Marprelate—The Hunt for Martin—Penry and Udal—Banishment of the Puritans—Sufferings of the Puritans—Barrow's Supplication— Impolicy of Persecution—Elizabeth and the Puritans—Their Per-